GENERAL NEWS

There is not much to report this month. The weather in late January and February did get better following much needed rain and snow (in the foothills). A few members are braving the cold morning temperatures to fly or waiting until it warms up.

Back Page

As the new flying season approaches, has anyone taken a few minutes to inspect or check his or her favorite flying machine while it sits idle in the garage or shop? It is a great idea to check your plane, helicopter, or drone for loose fasteners, broken or about to break fittings, loose control surfaces, engine mounts, and batteries. No one wants to go to the field on the first nice day and lose a favorite flying machine because a fastener fell out, a battery failed, or the engine quits while inverted just above the runway.

Have fun and see you at the field.
